

VOTING 101

What are the eligibility requirements to vote?

You can register and vote if you are:

- a United States citizen and a resident of California,
- 18 years old or older on Election Day,
- not currently in state or federal prison for the conviction of a felony, and
- not currently found mentally incompetent to vote by a court.

How do I register to vote?

You can register to vote online or at the DMV, public assistance offices, your local post office, public library, or your local county elections office if you want to vote in an election that is more than 14 days away. Registering to vote in advance is the best way to ensure you receive elections information and a vote-by-mail ballot in the mail.

If the election is 14 days or less away, you can still register to vote using same-day voter registration (also called conditional voter registration). Eligible individuals can register or re-register and vote at their county elections office, polling place, or vote center. These ballots are processed and counted once the county elections office has verified the voter's eligibility.

How do I get election materials in my preferred language?

County elections offices provide election materials in various languages, in addition to English. Please contact your county elections office directly to ask whether your county's voting-related materials are available in your preferred language.

When is the last day to register to vote?

In California, you can now register to vote or change your registration at any time, including on Election Day.

- If it is at least 15 days before the next local, state, or federal election, you can submit your registration online or by mailing in an application. You can register to vote at the DMV or public assistance offices, or you can pick up a paper voter registration application at post offices, libraries, or your local elections office.
- If it is 14 days or less before the next election, you can register or re-register to vote at your local elections office, polling place, or vote center.

If I am in line when the polls close can I still vote?

Yes! If you are in line at a voting location by 8 p.m. on Election Day, you have the right to vote.

How do I find my voting location?

Once you are registered to vote, you can vote at your local elections office, local polling place, or any vote center in your county on Election Day from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Your local polling place or nearest vote center could change between elections. Updated information will be listed on the sample ballot you receive in the mail before the next election as well as your county elections office website. You can look-up your polling place or find vote center information online, or you can call your county elections office to find out where you vote.
