

San Francisco County

San Francisco has not wasted any money on executions since 1991.

The death penalty “drains millions of dollars from efforts that more effectively protect public safety and promote justice.” –District Attorney Kamala Harris

	Homicide Rate 2005	Percent of Homicides Solved 2005	Death Sentences Since 2000
San Francisco County	12.1 per 100,000	37.5	0
Rank among 24 counties	2 nd	21 st	21 st (last)

	Law Enforcement Spending per Capita 2003-2004	Education Spending, per Student 2003-2004	High School Dropout Rate 2005
San Francisco County	$378.71	$7,593	10.9%
Rank among 24 counties	2 nd	8 th	15 th

San Francisco County Quick Facts:

- 0 death sentences since 1991.
- San Francisco County has not spent additional money seeking execution since 2000.
- Every time San Francisco avoids pursuing a death sentence, it saves at least $1.1 million.

